I actually live in Williamsburg VA, but I am probably at Rudee Loop more than 99.9% of the residents who live in Virginia Beach. I come to Rudee Loop to fish. I fish from the Rudee Rail (when there is space permitting), or from the rocks inside Rudee Inlet from the edge of the rail (ie: small fence) along to the bridge (when the rail is too crowded). I have been doing this about 3X to 4X a week from late-March thru early December for the past 15 years.

I am one of the most prolific fish taggers that volunteers with the VIMS / VMRC fish tagging program for Flounder (about 800+ a year) and speckled trout (1500+ a year) and the lion's share of the fish that I tag are caught / tagged / released and studied from the Rudee Inlet wall and shallow water rocks.

I have daily logs for the past decade to show all of this. The shoreline rocks inside Rudee Inlet, and the rail at Rudee Inlet are just about the only places left for a shorebound fisherman to fish easily in the entirety of Virginia Beach (and reliably catch fish).

The Rudee Inlet rail and rocks inside Rudee Inlet from the rail to the bridge are quite possibly the most prolific and last remaining shorebound fishing spots in Virginia Beach.

I believe the "park," which is located in one of the most economically and commercially valuable locations in the country. If it is too late to consider a more commercially practical and viable option, the park should be constructed in a manner that is eventually scalable to a more practical and useful use than green space. The green space decision was made because of the loudest voices in the room at the time. The loudest voices in the room do not adequately represent the people of Virginia Beach, or the most responsible decision that should be made with this parcel. People do not go to the beach for green space, and Virginia Beach does not market the beach for green space. People go to the beach for beach, and the leadership of VB have the responsibility and opportunity to create a world class destination location and experience that adds to making VB a destination for travelers and vacationers from all over the world. An expensive to maintain and problematic green space serves the purpose of a mere handful of individuals, a prediction that will undoubtedly come to light in the short term.

I ride my bike, surf, fish, boat, and simply relax two or three times a week! As a third generation VB native the rudee loop area has to support everyone! To expand and improve the oceanfront we all want to have more parking. It truly deters locals coming down because they have to compete with others. I also think there needs to be a discount for local parking and maybe a lottery system for locals to get parking passes.

Usually I center myself and refocus. That is the only area in the resort area, that actually allows you to see nature and be at peace. Well it was before those ugly wind turbines crao that nobody wants but Dominion, an energy monopoly in the area. Killing sea life and possibly ruining the number one industry in Va beach. Sit on the beach and enjoy the ocean. Walk the boardwalk and visit restaurants. One problem that needs to be looked at is the conflict in land use of the playground and the surfing area. Lots of people don't know the ocean is off limits in this area except for surfers. Many times people arrive early, and put up tents on the beach because it is easily accessed from the parking lot. Also, families, expect that their children will be able to use the playground and ocean. The lifeguard very often has to leave their post to remove people in the water requiring them to move further down the beach. My wife and I don't surf, or swim that often and sit in this area because it is less crowded due to these restrictions which is why we are so familiar with the problems this creates. Even the signage designating the swim area is not located in this area. The signs are placed down the beach halfway between lifeguard stations. Please see if there is a way to alleviate this conflict. Thank You, Alan Webb

Walk. Fish. Watch sunrises & sunsets. Reminisce. I worked at that spot in the Lighthouse Restaurant for 15 years. It's not just an empty parking lot by the water. So much history. So many weddings birthdays anniversaries, triumphs & anguish were shared & celebrated there. It's a special place where you can be close to the mighty ocean and the tranquil inlet. Breathtaking sunrises, sunsets and the nothing like watching the magical moon rise right on the ocean in its super moon phases.
